Example: Charlie has listed that he has an Instagram account and that his username is “csullivan10yo.” As this username reveals personal information, Charlie proposes one that is less revealing: “sully.” Charlie’s current profile picture is a photo of himself, so he placed an “X” in the column to indicate that he needs to use a less personally revealing picture. He suggests using a picture of a basketball instead, since it shares something he likes without sacrificing his privacy. Next, Charlie placed an “X” in the Password column, because he has shared his password with his buddies. He plans to change his password and only share it with his parents/guardians. Lastly, Charlie indicates that he needs to turn on his privacy settings, so that only those people whom he has chosen can see his posts.
